

You can log onto SSP from the GTCC homepage or type ssp.gtcc.edu into your browser.

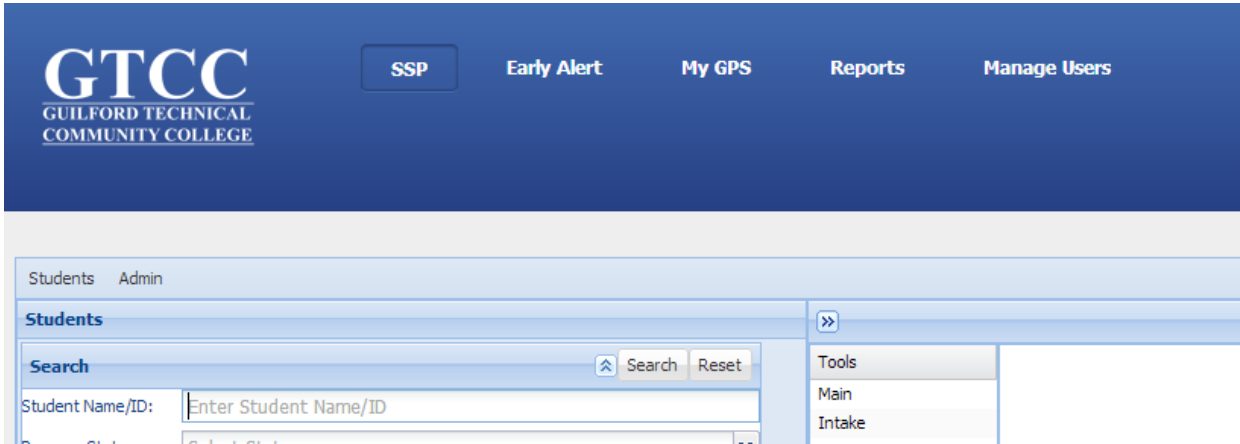

On the homepage, the link for SSP is at the top of the screen, next to the link for WebAdvisor.

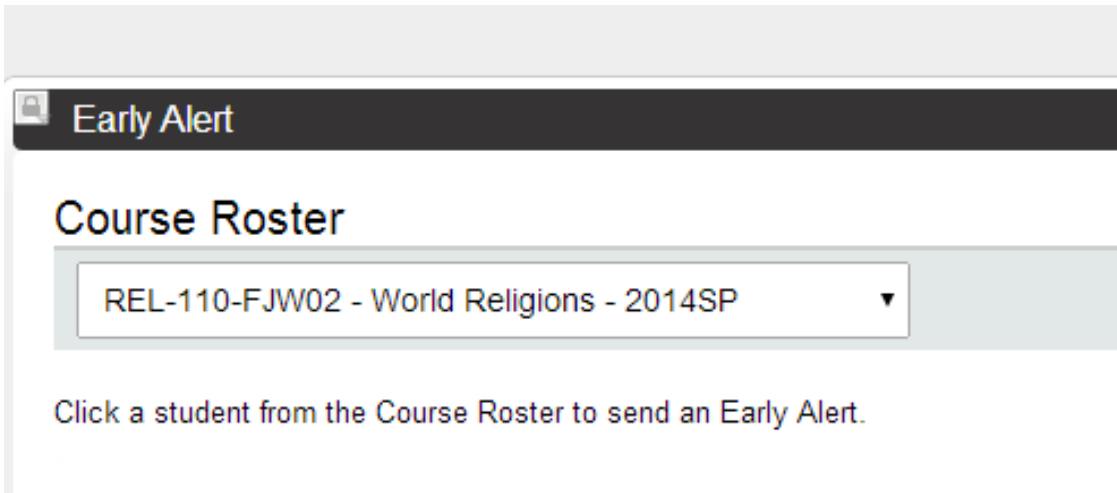

Log into SSP using your Titan username and password. This is the same log-in information you use for Moodle.

After you log in, click “Early Alert” at the top of the screen.

You will see a drop-down list of all sections you are teaching.

Select the appropriate section for the student for whom you would like to issue the early alert.

On the right side of the screen, adjust the number of records displayed or scroll through screens until you locate the student.

Comments:

If you would like to copy someone on the early alert, type their email address in the Email cc box. For example, if you know a student is a veteran, you could copy the veterans coordinator. You could also copy a department or division chair.

There is only one selection for campus. Choose GTCC-ALL.

Choose a Referral Reason.

The image shows a screenshot of a web form with the following fields:

- Campus: * GTCC - ALL (dropdown menu)
- Referral Reason: * Select a reason... (dropdown menu)
- Faculty Suggestions: Select a reason... (dropdown menu)
- Comments: (text area)

The dropdown menu for 'Referral Reason' is open, showing the following options:

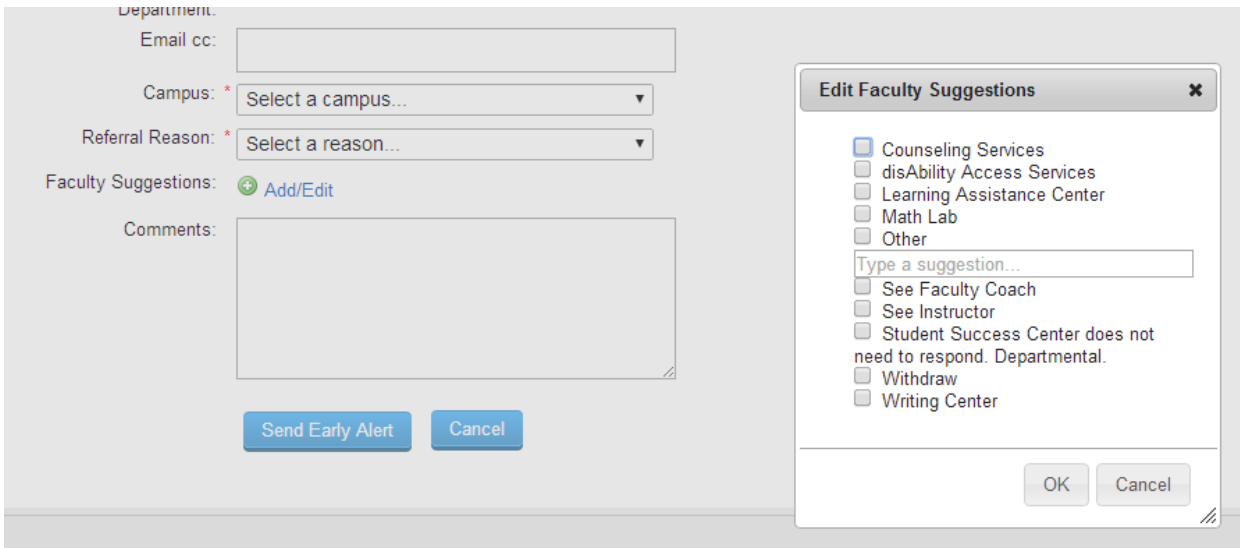

- Select a reason...
- Academic Concern
- Academic Integrity Violation
- Excessive Absences
- Low Test Scores
- Personal Concern
- Plagiarism
- Stopped Attending

Pick the Referral Reason that most accurately describes the student's circumstance. You can select only one reason per alert.

- Academic Concern
 - Academic concern not covered below
- Academic Integrity Violation
 - Cheating, fabrication, falsification, abuse of academic materials, complicity in academic dishonesty
- Excessive Absences
 - Absences putting student in danger of not passing class
- Low Test Scores
 - Performing poorly on major tests or assignments
- Personal Concern
 - Erratic behavior, coming to class under the influence of alcohol or drugs, indicators of personal distress
- Plagiarism
 - Presentation of another person's work as student's own without proper acknowledgment of the source
- Stopped Attending
 - Student has stopped attending class entirely

If you would like to suggest to the Student Success Center the course of action you would advise the student to take, click . Click the checkboxes to select the response you deem appropriate, and then click OK.

Add comments for additional specificity, as needed.

Click “Send Early Alert.” You will see a pop-up that asks if you would like to send an email to the student. The email does not have specifics regarding the alert beyond the contact information of the instructor who issued the alert. A sample email to a student is below. If you would like the student to receive the email, click “Yes.” If not, select “No.”

The screenshot shows a web interface for sending an early alert. On the left, there is a form with the following fields:

- Department: (empty)
- Email cc: (empty text box)
- Campus: * GTCC - ALL (dropdown menu)
- Referral Reason: * Stopped Attending (dropdown menu)
- Faculty Suggestions:
 - See Instructor
 - + Add/Edit
- Comments: Sally attended consistently for the first month of class. She has not been in class for the last week, and she has not responded to emails or Moodle messages.

At the bottom of the form are two buttons: "Send Early Alert" and "Cancel".

On the right, a pop-up window titled "Send Early Alert" is displayed. It contains the following text:

Would you like to send an email notice of this Alert message to the Student? The email sent to the student will include information about additional resources and assistance to help the student correct the Alert situation.

At the bottom of the pop-up are two buttons: "Yes" and "No".

An Early Alert email is sent to 1) an early alert coordinator in the Student Success Center who is responsible for following up on the alert, 2) the student’s assigned faculty coach, and 3) the student’s instructor who issued the alert. Each of these emails will include the information listed above.

Early Alert email to student:

Dear Sally Student

Your instructor for ENG-231-FJW04 notified me that you are experiencing issues that might affect your success at GTCC. An early alert coordinator will contact you soon to discuss your situation. In the meantime, here are a few resources that may help you find academic success.
